2.3.2.13.1 Major Changes

For major changes in the title proper of a serial, apply these instructions, as appropriate:

languages and scripts that divide text into words (see 2.3.2.13.1.1) languages and scripts that do not divide text into words (see 2.3.2.13.1.2).

2.3.2.13.1.1 Languages and Scripts That Divide Text into Words

In general, consider the following to be major changes in a title proper written in a language and script that divides text into words:

[content below is unchanged from what was at 2.3.2.13.1]

- a) the addition, deletion, change, or reordering of any of the first five words (the first six words if the title begins with an article) unless the change belongs to one or more of the categories listed as minor changes (see 2.3.2.13.2)
- b) the addition, deletion, or change of any word after the first five words (the first six words if the title begins with an article) that changes the meaning of the title or indicates a different subject matter
- c) a change of name for a corporate body included anywhere in the title if the changed name is for a different corporate body.

2.3.2.13.1.2 Languages and Scripts That Do Not Divide Text into Words

In general, consider the following to be major changes in a title proper written in a language and script that do not divide text into words:

a) the addition, deletion, change, or reordering of any component (i.e., a character or group of characters) of the title proper that changes the meaning of the title or indicates a different subject matter

b) a change of name for a corporate body included anywhere in the title if the changed name is for a different corporate body.

2.3.2.13.2 Minor Changes

In general, consider the following to be minor changes in a title proper:

a) a difference in the representation of a word, words, or other component (i.e., a character or group of characters) anywhere in the title such as change in the form of the character one spelling vs. another abbreviated word or sign or symbol vs. spelled-out form arabic numeral vs. roman numeral number or date vs. spelled-out form hyphenated word vs. unhyphenated word one-word compound vs. two-word compound, whether hyphenated or not acronym or initialism vs. full form or change in grammatical form (e.g., singular vs. plural))

 b) the addition, deletion, or change of articles, prepositions, or conjunctions (or, in languages which do not use those, analogous parts of speech that have little lexical meaning but express grammatical relationships) anywhere in the title [paragraphs c), d), and e) unchanged]

f) the addition, deletion, or change of a word, words, or other component (i.e., a character or group of characters) anywhere in the title that link the title to the numbering [paragraph g) unchanged]

- h) the addition to, deletion from, or change in the order of a word, words, or other component (i.e., a character or group of characters) in a list anywhere in the title, provided that there is no significant change in the subject matter
- i) the addition, deletion, or rearrangement anywhere in the title of a word, words or other component (i.e., a character or group of characters) that indicate the type of resource, such as "magazine," "journal," or "newsletter" or their equivalent in other languages.

[last paragraph unchanged]
