

TO: Joint Steering Committee for Development of RDA

FROM: Judith A. Kuhagen, Secretary, JSC

SUBJECT: Works without titles

The text below reflects the decisions made by the Joint Steering Committee during its November 2014 meeting and via email after the meeting.

The Feb. 22 revised version of this document corrected the instruction caption at 6.2.2.10 and referred to 6JSC/LC/29/Sec final/rev for changes to 6.2.7.4.1. This revision corrects some font irregularities and revises the summary of example changes for 6.12.1.3.

6.2.2.2 Sources of Information

Determine the preferred title for a work from resources embodying the work or from reference sources. Apply the instructions at 6.2.2.4–6.2.2.6 when choosing the source of information.

6.2.2.3 General Guidelines on Choosing the Preferred Title

Choose the preferred title for a work by applying the following instructions, as applicable:

- works created after 1500 (see 6.2.2.4)
- works created before 1501 (see 6.2.2.5)
- titles in the original language not found or not applicable (see 6.2.2.6)
- titles found in a non-preferred script (see 6.2.2.7).

[last paragraph unchanged]

6.2.2.4 Works Created after 1500

[the two paragraphs after "The little acorn" example are unchanged but included below for context]

For works created after 1500, choose as the preferred title the title or form of title in the original language by which the work is commonly identified either through use in resources embodying the work or in reference sources.

EXAMPLE

Martin Chuzzlewit

Preferred title for work by Charles Dickens also published under titles: The life and adventures of Martin Chuzzlewit; Martin Chuzzlewit's life and adventures; and others

Whitaker's almanack

Preferred title for work first published under the title: An almanack for the year of Our Lord ...

Hamlet

Preferred title for work by William Shakespeare first published under the title: The tragicall historie of Hamlet, Prince of Denmarke. Commonly identified by title in later publications and reference sources: Hamlet

The American scholar

Preferred title for work by Ralph Waldo Emerson first published under the title: An oration delivered before the Phi Beta Kappa Society, at Cambridge, August 31, 1837

Non ti muovere

Preferred title for work by Margaret Mazzantini originally written in Italian. Later published under the title: Don't move

Book M

Preferred title for a compilation of works including letters, essays and poems written by Katherine Austen. The work, originally embodied in the British Library's manuscript collection Additional 4454, was first published after Austen's death with the title Book M and republished with that title

If:

there is no title or form of title in the original language established as the one by which the work is commonly identified

or in case of doubt

then:

choose the title proper of the original edition (see 2.3.2) as the preferred title.

EXAMPLE

The Pre-Raphaelite tragedy

Preferred title for work by William Gaunt later published under the title: The Pre-Raphaelite dream

The criminal

Preferred title for work issued in the United Kingdom as:

The criminal. Later issued in the United States as: The concrete jungle

The little acorn

Preferred title for work by Christa Kauble that has only one expression and only one manifestation. The manifestation was published under the title: The little acorn

If the work is published simultaneously in different languages and the original language cannot be determined, choose the title proper of the first resource received as the preferred title. If the language editions are in the same resource (e.g., a work issued with the same text in French and English), choose the title proper named on the preferred source of information as the preferred title.

If the work is published simultaneously in the same language under different titles, choose the title proper of the first resource received as the preferred title.

EXAMPLE

Rats in the larder

Preferred title for work by Joachim Joesten, based on the title of the edition published in New York: Rats in the larder. Simultaneously published in London under the title: Denmark's day of doom. The resource published in New York is the first received

If the title or form of title chosen is found in a script that differs from a preferred script of the agency creating the data, apply the instructions at 6.2.2.7.

If:

the title proper of the original edition is not available or the original edition does not have a title proper and reference sources do not contain a title in the original language

then:

apply the instructions at 6.2.2.6.

6.2.2.5 Works Created before 1501

For works created before 1501, choose as the preferred title the title or form of title in the original language by which the work is commonly identified in modern reference sources. If the evidence of modern reference sources is inconclusive, choose (in this order of preference) the title most frequently found in:

[a)-c) lines unchanged]

EXAMPLE

Beowulf

De bello Gallico

Preferred title for work by Julius Caesar

La chanson de Roland

Pardoner's tale

Preferred title for work by Geoffrey Chaucer

Nibelungenlied

Edictum Theodorici

King Alisaunder

Preferred title for a Middle English romance

Exception

Classical and Byzantine Greek Works

[1st-2nd paragraphs & their examples unchanged]

If there is neither a well-established title in a language preferred by the agency creating the data nor a Latin title, choose the Greek title. Apply the instructions at 6.2.2.7 when choosing the form of Greek title.

[examples unchanged]

[exception for "Anonymous Works Written Neither in Greek nor in a Preferred Script of the Agency" deleted]

If the title or form of title chosen is found in a script that differs from a preferred script of the agency creating the data, apply the instructions at 6.2.2.7.

If a title in the original language is not available in modern reference sources or in resources embodying the work because there is no original language or such a title cannot be found, apply the instructions at 6.2.2.6.

6.2.2.6 Titles in the Original Language Not Found or Not Applicable

This instruction applies to works when the application of 6.2.2.4–6.2.2.5

and 6.2.2.7 does not result in choosing a preferred title.

Apply this instruction when a preferred title in the original language cannot be found either in resources embodying the work or in reference sources. This may occur when resources embodying the work do not contain titles (e.g., some manuscripts, sculptures, choreographic works)

or resources embodying the work are not available (e.g., no manifestations of the work are known to exist)

or

reference sources do not contain a title for the work in the original language.

For such works without titles, choose (in this order of preference):

- a) a title found in a reference source in a language preferred by the agency creating the data (see 6.2.2.6.1)
- b) a title devised by the agency creating the data (see 6.2.2.6.2).

6.2.2.6.1 Titles from Reference Sources

This instruction applies to preferred titles chosen from reference sources when a title in the original language is not available or not applicable.

Choose a well-established title from a modern reference source in the language preferred by the agency creating the data.

EXAMPLE

Domesday book

Preferred title for a work written in Latin. Latin title not found in reference sources; title recorded as found in English language reference sources

Liber linteus Zagrabiensis

Preferred title for a work written in Etruscan. Latin title found in English language reference sources

Les demoiselles d'Avignon

Preferred title for a painting by Paolo Picasso. French title found on website of the New York Museum of Modern Art, which owns the original painting

The gates

Preferred title for a work of art by Christo and Jeanne-Claude. Title found on the joint website of the two artists

Dark meadow

Preferred title for a choreographic work by Martha Graham. Title found on a program guide issued for the first performance of the work at the Plymouth Theatre in New York

6.2.2.6.2 Devised Titles

This instruction applies to works for which titles are not found in resources embodying the work or in reference sources.

Devise a title (see 2.3.2.11) as the preferred title.

EXAMPLE

Charlie Chaplin standing with Arnold Schoenberg, outside in Los Angeles

Preferred title for a photograph by Max Munn Autrey. Devised title indicates the subject of the photograph

Born to make you happy

Preferred title for a choreographic work created by Wade Robson and performed to the song Born to make you happy in multiple Britney Spears concert tours

Coca-Cola advertisement with polar bears building snow bears Preferred title for a television advertisement. Devised title indicates the nature of the resource, product advertised, and subject portrayed

Zoning map of Nuku'alofa region

Preferred title for a map. Devised title indicates the nature and subject of the resource

I need a dollar

Preferred title for a choreographic work by Christopher Dean that was used as the short program of figure skater Patrick Chan in multiple figure skating competitions; Chan skated the program to the song I need a dollar

Andrew Jackson letter to Commodore I.D. Elliott

Preferred title for a work embodied only in a manuscript. Devised title indicates the nature of the resource and names of the creator and addressee

but

L'après-midi d'un faune

Preferred title for a choreographic work by Vaslaw Nijinsky that is usually performed to the musical work Prélude à l'après-midi d'un faune by Claude Debussy. Title for the choreographic work found in English-language reference sources

Alternative

Works embodied in manuscripts. Devise a title using the authorized access point representing the repository (see 11.13.1) followed by Manuscript. Add the repository's designation for the manuscript or manuscript group. If the manuscript is a single item within a collection, add the foliation, if known.

EXAMPLE

British Library. Manuscript. Additional 6679, folio 111

Cambridge University Library. Manuscript. LI 2.5

Herzog August Bibliothek. Manuscript. Helmstedt 628, folio 185–192

but

Sonnets from the Portuguese

not

British Library. Manuscript. Additional 43487

The British Library manuscript Additional 43487 contains the work by Elizabeth Barrett Browning commonly identified as Sonnets from the Portuguese

6.2.2.7 Titles Found in a Non-Preferred Script

If the title of a work is found in a script that differs from a preferred script of the agency creating the data, transliterate the title according to the scheme chosen by the agency.

EXAMPLE

Dānishnāmah-i 'Alā'ī

Preferred title for work by Avicenna. Title appears in original script as: دانش‌نامه علانی

Kapetan Michalēs

Preferred title for a work by Nikos Kazantzakis. Title appears in original script as: Καπετάν Μιχάλης

Nochnoi dozor

Preferred title for a motion picture. Title appears in original script as: Ночной дозор

Alternative

If there is a well-established title or form of title in reference sources in a language preferred by the agency creating the data, choose that title or form of title as the preferred title.

EXAMPLE

The art of war
not Sunzi bing fa
not 孫子兵法

Arabian nights
not Alf laylah wa-laylah
not ألف ليلة ويلة
