

How to Join the RDA Community

James Hennelly
Director, RDA Toolkit

February 2026

Joining the RDA Community

- Subscription
- Community
- Participation

Subscription

- Base price is $201 (US) for a single user license, with discounts for more users

Number of Users			Cost Per User
1			$201
2	to	4	$192
5	to	9	$189
10	to	14	$184
15	to	19	$178
20	+		$170

Subscription - Consortia

- Discounts of 5-10% for consortia orders
- Factors considered in discount
 - Number of consortia members
 - Billing requirements
 - Multiyear subscription

Subscription -- LIS

Exclusive rate for Library and Information School courses

- 10 users for $500
- 30 users for $1,000
- 50 users for $1,500
- 80 users for $2,150

Subscription -- Companion

- New subscription level for groups or institutions that want to permission to create an online cataloguing manual
- Intended for those sharing an online manual for a large community of libraries

Subscription -- Companion

Benefits include

- Permission to publish an online cataloguing manual based on RDA
- Access to RDA content management system for translation, PS, and CR
- Toolkit Access that aligns with the needs of the community served

Subscription -- Companion

Pricing

- Flexible pricing
- Based on community population
- Renewal required to maintain permission

Community

- RDA-L
- RDA Newsletter
- Regional or national groups, such as DACH or UKCoR
- Community Resources

Community Resources

Partner Organizations

- Work in the Toolkit CMS
- Fee involved

Contributing Organizations

- Work in the HTML editor
- No fee

Participation

Share your expertise directly with the RDA Steering Committee

- RSC Working Groups
 - Standing Groups – Examples
 - Task and Finish/ Advisory Groups – Religion

Participation -- Training

There remains great demand for training, and one with a deep knowledge of RDA can be a benefit to others.

Consider taking RDA training classes, attending RDA events, joining RDA discussion and working groups, etc.

Thank you for your attention.

Please feel free to contact me with any thoughts or questions.

James Hennelly
Director, RDA Toolkit
jhennelly@ala.org